[REDACTED]
Raleigh, North Carolina, [REDACTED] Raleigh,
North Carolina, am currently the [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

I make the following free and voluntary statement to Special Agent [REDACTED] Federal Bureau of Investigation, Raleigh, North Carolina. I have been advised this statement may be used in a court of law.

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] and I am aware he recently advised someone with the United States Department of Justice that information had been received in this office indicating money was being paid to black North Carolina voters to remain away from the polls on election day because it is felt most North Carolina blacks would vote for Democratic Candidate [REDACTED] rather than Incumbent Senator JESSE HELMS. I have not heard any information indicating $600,000 was received from Washington, D. C., or that Senator HELMS was parcelling this money out in $50 lots to buy voters.

For the last several weeks, people who have been in contact with this office have advised workers in this office of rumors indicating black voters were being offered unknown amounts of money to remain away from the polls.

Some time toward the end of last week, a female, who I do not care to identify at this time, advised me that a female who is active in the black Wake County community told a meeting of the Wake County Democratic Executive Committee that people were offering and paying black voters money not to vote in the election because of JESSE HELMS' candidacy. I do not know that the individual who gave me this information would want to get personally involved and would want to talk with her prior to giving her name.

Last Sunday night, November 5, 1978, a person came to this office who I was not previously acquainted with, and advised me a black attorney in Goldsboro, North Carolina, which is located in the Third Congressional District was offering money to blacks in that district to remain away from the polls to enhance the possibility of the re-election of Incumbent Senator JESSE HELMS. I do not know this individual and cannot vouch therefore for his credibility. He did not say whether or not it was a Republican source or a HELMS' source who was offering the money, but merely said the money was being offered to encourage blacks to stay at home and I therefore inferred this was an anti- campaign. I make this conclusion because I know there are many Democrats in the Third Congressional District who are supporting Republican Senator HELMS.

Over the past several weeks there has been street talk, that is rumor from sources I cannot recall at this time indicating [redacted] a Democrat and former Mayor of the City of Raleigh, had received $10,000 from some source which he was to use to distribute to blacks to encourage them not to vote. Several people have furnished this information to this office.

[redacted] is head of the ^{North Carolina State} Black Democratic Caucus ^{MWZ} ~~in Wake County, North Carolina~~, which has been helpful to the Democratic Party in Wake County, North Carolina. I do not know whether or not this information is true or correct and it may possibly be someone is circulating the information to discredit or hurt [redacted]

I am aware of the identity of the number of persons who have furnished this general information concerning the distribution of HELMS' money to blacks; however, I feel I would be violating their confidence if I supplied their identities prior to receiving permission from these individuals to reveal their identities. ^{MWZ}

Re Bureau telephone call, 11/6/78.

At 12:30 P.M. this date, [redacted] Public Integrity Section, USDOJ, Washington, D. C., FTS [redacted] telephonically contacted SA EZELL regarding another matter at which time [redacted] advised that the Attorney General had recently spoken to [redacted]

[redacted] purportedly advised that Republican incumbent, U. S. Senator JESSE HELMS, has received $600,000 which money had been received from Washington, D. C. and HELMS in turn is parceling out this money in $50 lots in order to buy voters, that is paying these individuals to stay at home on election day and thus not to vote (vote buying). DOJ official offered to have FBI agent contact [redacted] however, he said he would be too busy with campaign to be interviewed. [redacted] did indicate that [redacted] N.C., telephone [redacted] can furnish details regarding this vote buying and would be available to be interviewed by the FBI.

However, if monies are being paid by persons associated with the Helms campaign in order to insure that persons associated with the [redacted] campaign do not work on election day, such as individuals who drive voters to the polls, then this does not constitute a violation.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent [redacted] on the dates indicated:

AT ASHEVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA

On April 10, 1981, [redacted] Editor, The Tri-County News in Spruce Pine, North Carolina, telephonically advised the Asheville Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation that his newspaper had received in the mail on April 8, 1981, an envelope postmarked Buffalo, New York, and dated April 6, 1981. It had been addressed to the Tri-County News in Spruce Pine, North Carolina, and it contained a handwritten letter signed [redacted] read the contents of the letter, which contained a threat against President RONALD REAGAN's [redacted] and North Carolina United States Senator JESSE HELMS.

[redacted] said that he had not contacted the Federal Bureau of Investigation immediately after receiving the letter on April 8, 1981, inasmuch as he did not take the letter seriously and thought the letter writer merely meant to be considered as sending a letter to the Editor of the paper.

No employees at Tri-County News knew anyone by the name of [redacted] and [redacted] said that no one there could think of anyone who might have written the letter.

On April 10, 1981, the Asheville Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation contacted the Assistant Special Agent in Charge of the United States Secret Service in Charlotte, North Carolina, LOUIS ALFARO. ALFARO was advised of the contents of the letter.

AT SPRUCE PINE, NORTH CAROLINA

On April 13, 1981, the Chief of Police of the Spruce Pine Police Department, as well as members of that department, were contacted regarding the [redacted] letter. No one recognized the handwriting and the name [redacted] was unknown to them. The department could not identify anyone who might have written the letter.

United States Senator JESSE HELMS was contacted telephonically and was advised of a threat contained in a letter to the Tri-County News, Spruce Pines, North Carolina, postmarked Buffalo, New York, bearing the name [redacted]

Senator HELMS advised he knew no one named [redacted] and could not recall ever having received any correspondence from this person before. He noted that threats to himself, both telephonic and written, were relatively commonplace and cited as an example, a telephone call received by [redacted] of his Raleigh, North Carolina, staff recently wherein a male caller said he was holding [redacted] hostage and was going to [redacted]. This threat proved unfounded and [redacted] were located safe in Raleigh, North Carolina, and neither reported any unusual circumstance recently.

Senator HELMS advised that [redacted] of his Washington, D. C., Office possibly had a record of threatening letter sent to him, but noted this record may be incomplete as threats of this nature are handled frequently and somewhat casually.

From : SA

Subject : UNSUB; THREAT TO KILL
UNITED STATES SENATOR JESSE HELMS;
EXTORTION

OO: CHARLOTTE

In a letter postmarked 9/22/87, at Chicago, Illinois, unknown subject wrote a threatening letter to Senator JESSE HELMS. This letter, which was sent addressed to HELMS' Raleigh Office, consisted of one page and was handwritten. In essence, the author threatened to kill HELMS unless the Clean Indoor Air Act passed.

The Bureau was notified of this threatening letter by teletype on 9/25/87 and the letter itself was sent to the FBI Laboratory. A search of the Anonymous Letter File failed to effect an identification. In addition, the Raleigh, North Carolina, Office of the United States Secret Service and the RALEIGH POLICE DEPARTMENT were notified of this threat. The Washington Field Office appropriately notified the U. S. CAPITAL POLICE DEPARTMENT as well.

Inasmuch as all logical investigation has been conducted and no information has been produced to identify the unknown subject, it is recommended this case be closed administratively.

b6

MEMO TO SA

FILE NUMBER 9-3679-1B1

The MAOP sets forth instructions for the retention and disposal of property acquired during investigations.

A Semi-Annual Inventory must be conducted of property acquired during investigation that is still being retained by the USM; the CHARLOTTE OFFICE, or by another office in which Charlotte is listed as office of origin.

Evidence disposition instructions are clearly listed in the MAOP and compliance with same would greatly simplify the SEMI-ANNUAL INVENTORY process.

Documentary evidence is described as papers obtained from private parties either by Government subpoena, seizure, or voluntary contribution.

All documentary evidence should be obtained with the clear understanding that such documents will be returned to the owner/contributor after it has been determined that the items no longer have evidentiary, prosecutive, or investigative value. If return of the material is not feasible; IT SHOULD BE NOTED You are authorized to destroy all documentary evidence which you have been retaining.

The concurrence of the responsible USA or AUSA should be secured and noted in case file prior to destruction of the documentary evidence.

Drug evidence is not to be destroyed prior to indictment. (exception for bulk destruction). Following a determination by the U.S. Attorney that seized controlled substances need no longer be retained for evidence, the drugs may be destroyed.

Upon completion of the evidence destruction, a destruction memo for case file is prepared by case agent. This memo is to set forth a complete description of items destroyed along with the names of the participants and witnesses.

Original ELSUR tapes are not destroyed. Duplicate tape recordings may be erased or destroyed. Prior to destruction or erasure of any Duplicate ELSUR tapes, you should ensure that the investigative matter to which they correspond is not subject to litigation or an FOIPA request.

Attached is a copy of the green sheet (FD-192) of evidence now being held in a case or cases assigned to you or, if closed, was last assigned to you.

1. The MAOP requires that each of the attached copies of the Bulky Exhibit Form (FD-192) of evidence that is to be retained be dated and initialed by you. Please do this on the line with the red check mark.

2. The attached copies of FD-192 and this memo are to be returned to by 4/29/88.

3. Indicate below whether or not the Bulky Exhibit is to be retained. If retention of evidence is necessary, state a reason. If exhibit is not to be retained, give instructions for disposal.

Re Kansas City airtel to Director, dated 4/17/89.

For information of Kansas City Division, previous investigation at Fairfield, Iowa, has revealed that telephone calls made from Fairfield, Iowa (515 area code), were in fact made at pay telephone booths.

From the standpoint of demographics, Fairfield is undoubtedly the most unique community in the state of Iowa, and probably one of the more unusual in the United States. For many years, up until 1972, Fairfield was the home of PARSONS COLLEGE. PARSONS was dis-accredited in 1972 and closed, essentially because the college was selling degrees. During the latter part of the 1960s, and into the early 1970s, prior to its closing, PARSONS attracted a number of students from throughout the United States, and was something of a hot bed of anti-Vietnam protest.

In 1973, the college was purchased by followers of

The university was renamed MAHARISHI INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY, and from 1973 until the present, the composition of the city of Fairfield has changed dramatically. Many people have been drawn from the east and west coasts, foreign countries, and literally throughout the United States, all followers of the religious precepts of the MAHARISHI, many attended the college, and an equal number have taken up residence in the city. For the most part, followers of the MAHARISHI are peaceful people, practicing their meditation in the morning and in the afternoon from 2:00 until 3:00 p.m. Two large golden domes have been built on the campus, one for men, the other for women, and virtually every follower of the MAHARISHI in town goes to one of their domes during the day to practice transcendental meditation. Some believe that in their meditating state, they can and do achieve a state of "levitation". No one other than believers in the MAHARISHI have been allowed in the domes, consequently whether or not levitation occurs has yet to be proven.

Into this community have come a wide range of individuals from throughout the country and the world. Doctors, lawyers, MBA's, and other well educated business people have settled in Fairfield, some forming their own businesses. On the other side of the coin, a number of people seeking to deal with their drug habits in a more positive means have also come to the community. Since the MAHARISHI is a "guru" some of the natives of the town jokingly refer to the followers as "roos." However, there has been little, if any, friction between the native element and followers of the MAHARISHI over the years. Within the past several years, several members of the "roo" community have been elected to responsible positions in town on the city government.

Given this brief thumbnail sketch of Fairfield, Kansas City can see that it is anything but the "typical Iowa farm town." It is a diversified community in terms of the people it attracts, literally a "melting pot" of highly educated individuals with extremely diverse views.

On May 4, 1989, RANDY COOKSEY, Chief of Police, Fairfield, Iowa, a member of the police force for 12 years, was contacted concerning letters sent by the "PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY" and COOKSEY stated he had heard of the party before. On 3/16/89, COOKSEY stated he received a telephone call from Officer [redacted] of the Washington, D.C. Capitol Police concerning the PROGRESSIVE LABOR PARTY (PLP). In this conversation, COOKSEY learned that the Washington Capitol Police were holding a subject for protective custody and attempting to hide his identity. The Capitol Police had been receiving threatening telephone calls from a person who identified himself as a member of the PLP. COOKSEY traced the numbers he was given to a car wash in Fairfield at a telephone booth at 406 North 4th Street.

COOKSEY was shown two letters written by an individual supposedly connected with the PLP, read the letters, and stated he had no idea who in town may have authored the letters. COOKSEY stated he felt the individuals who wrote the letters were probably connected with the MAHARISHI Campus in some way, noting that there are "plenty of odd ideas on campus and around town."

COOKSEY was provided with a copy of the letters sent by the PLP, and stated he would show them to all of his officers, in addition to officers on the sheriff's department. He would also be alert to any activities of the PLP in Fairfield, and would, in the future, channel this information to Agents in the Cedar Rapids, Iowa Resident Agency. ,

With current leads in Omaha Division being covered by this and other communications, Omaha is placing captioned matter into an RUC status.

UNKNOWN SUBJECT;
SENATOR JESSE HELMS,
NORTH CAROLINA - VICTIM;
CONGRESSIONAL, CABINET, AND SUPREME COURT
ASSASSINATION, KIDNAPING, AND ASSAULT

Investigation into this matter was commenced in early 1989 by the Kansas City office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) upon receipt of a series of telephone calls from a male caller claiming allegiance to the "Progressive Labor Party" (PLP). Generally, the calls were short in duration and typically demanded the United States Government discontinue its political and military activities in El Salvador.

While the calls to the Kansas City FBI office continued randomly, a series of letters were received in April of 1989. Copies of these letters are attached to this report and summarized as follows:

1. Undated, "FBI suck dick, FBI kiss one ass hole ..." Same theme continues for one page.

2. April 6, 1989, specific threat to kill Senator Helms of North Carolina by PLP of Chicago and proposed method of how killing will be accomplished.

3. April 10, 1989, threat to kill Jean Claude (Baby Doc) Duvalier.

b6
b7C

4. April 13, 1989, threat to bomb Adams Mark Hotel in Saint Louis to protest the invasion of Grenada.

The investigation centered on the southeast Iowa town of Fairfield when it was determined the phone calls had been placed from two telephone booths in Fairfield. Local law enforcement authorities were contacted, but had never heard of the PLP or any such political group in Fairfield. Information concerning the calls, letters and threats were provided to Fairfield police who agreed to be on the alert for any activity of this sort.

In May of 1989, information was received from Detective [redacted] Fairfield Police Department, concerning the observations of two young women who had seen a Fairfield man making a suspicious telephone call from a telephone booth, then running away after shouting, "Get out of El Salvador."

UNSUB;

[redacted] both Fairfield residents, had stopped for a coke at a local convenience store after a day of shopping. [redacted] while waiting in her car, saw a man run out of the store, grab a pay phone, quickly dial a number then yell "Get out of El Salvador." When the man hung up and ran away, the phone started ringing. [redacted] answered it and spoke to an FBI operator in Kansas City who asked if she knew the man. [redacted] later reported the incident and her observations to Fairfield Police who made contact with Omaha Division case agent in the Cedar Rapids, Iowa Resident Agency.

From [redacted] description and statements, Detective [redacted] identified one [redacted] of Fairfield as the individual most likely responsible for the calls. [redacted] made contact with [redacted] and, although he did not elicit incriminating statements from [redacted] did instruct [redacted] to stop making the phone calls to the Kansas City FBI office. It was at this point, early May of 1989, that the calls stopped and have not resumed.

[redacted] was later contacted by Omaha case agent. Again, while no admissions were made, [redacted] was instructed that if he was the person who was making the calls, he should make no calls in the future. A copy of the interview of [redacted] is incorporated as the final attachment to this report and includes all known identifying information. [redacted] refused to provide handwriting samples and/or prints for comparison with handwriting and one latent print found on one of the letters sent to Kansas City.

Follow up investigation by the Kansas City FBI office has revealed [redacted]

[redacted] acknowledge this in his interview, but very little information of value was obtained. It appeared to Omaha case agent that [redacted] did not seem to understand, or avoided acknowledging what the nature of the interview involved. Notwithstanding [redacted] refusal to either understand or participate in the interview, the daily phone calls to the Kansas City office have ceased.

Assistant United States Attorney [redacted] Southern District of Iowa, Des Moines, Iowa, was apprised of the facts of the investigation as it related to and focused on [redacted] on November 27, 1989. [redacted] would decline to prosecute

UNSUB;
SENATOR JESSE HELMS;

[] because of a lack of evidence to connect [] to anything other than one telephone call. Paff felt the problem had been resolved by Detective [] and [] case agent's strong admonishments of [] and that no useful purpose would be served by having [] face criminal charges. [redacted] residing at [redacted] Iowa, was interviewed by SPECIAL AGENT [redacted] concerning numerous telephone calls placed to the Federal Bureau of Investigation office in Kansas City, Missouri, as well as a number of letters written to the same office.

b6
b7c

[redacted] was born in Des Moines, Iowa although he spent some of his life in the Kansas City area. He did not know how long he lived in the Kansas City area, nor did he know how long he had been living in [redacted]

[redacted] denied knowing anyone named [redacted] in the Kansas City area, and also denied making phone calls and sending letters to the FBI office. He stated he did not recall Officer [redacted] of the Fairfield Police Department talking to him about the phone calls within the past month.

[redacted] was asked numerous other questions, but failed to respond to most. When asked a question, he would vacantly stare off into space as if he had not heard the question. When the interviewing agent asked him if he had heard the question, he would say he had, then continue to look vacantly off into space. Consequently, little or no valuable information could be obtained during the course of this interview which took place on the sidewalk in front of his house.

[redacted] was asked if he would accompany SA [redacted] to the Police Department for voluntary fingerprinting and a handwriting exemplar, and stated he did not want to.
